

Engineering Director (Agriculture)

- Plans and directs all aspects of Agriculture activities within an organization.
- Ensures all agriculture projects, initiatives, and processes are in conformance with organization's established policies and objectives.
- Requires a bachelor's degree in engineering/agriculture and 10 years of experience in various agriculture fields.
- Directs the work of others. Typically reports to CEO or top management

Source: salary.com